69TH PLENARY MEETING OF THE INTERNATIONAL COTTON ADVISORY COMMITTEE Lubbock, Texas, USA September 20-25, 2010

“Cotton Industry Growth Through Global Unity.”

Technical Tour Following the Plenary Meeting

The Organizing Committee in the United States has organized a superb technical tour of cotton production, research, harvesting, ginning and handling facilities. The tour will commence on Saturday afternoon September 25 and continue through Monday afternoon September 27. Participants will return to Lubbock each evening. Participants may choose to attend only one or two days of the technical tour if they wish. The cost of participation in the Technical Tour is $175 to cover transportation. (Prorated discounts cannot be provided for those who wish to participate in only one or two days of the tour.) Participants will also pay the costs of hotel and food during the three-day program.

Participants should make travel plans, including hotel reservations, with these dates in mind. Space on the tour is limited to 50 persons, the capacity of one full-sized bus. Participants should register with the technical tour by e-mail sent to <Carmen@ICAC.org>. Payment for the tour will be accepted in Lubbock at the time of registration for the plenary meeting.

Specific information about the tour is available in the Plenary Meeting brochure on line. Additional specific questions should be directed to Mr. Roger Haldenby <roger@plainscotton.org>. Mr. Haldenby is a member of the U.S. Organizing Committee.

At its 506th Meeting in Suffolk, VA on July 16, 2010, the Standing Committee of the ICAC approved the Provisional Agenda for the 69th Plenary Meeting of the ICAC. The theme of the meeting, “Cotton Industry Growth Through Global Unity,” emphasizes issues and concerns common to all in the cotton value chain that can be overcome through unified actions.
