

ICAC's 82nd Plenary Meeting

International Hotel
Tashkent, Uzbekistan

29 Sept - 3 Oct 2024

Ms Debra Guo

Debra brings over a decade of expertise in sustainability within the fashion industry to her role as Cotton and Crops Lead at Textile Exchange, where she engages with numerous key players and industry stakeholders to create beneficial impacts on climate and nature in cotton production landscapes. Prior to joining Textile Exchange, Debra led the environmental sustainability strategy at Stella McCartney. There, she implemented sustainable sourcing initiatives and fostered collaborations with cotton growers and researchers. Her experience also includes sustainability and climate change consulting at PricewaterhouseCoopers, where she specialized in helping brands to measure and mitigate their environmental impacts using natural capital accounting methodologies.

She holds a Master of Professional Studies in Soil & Crop Sciences from Cornell University, a Master of Science in Environment and Development from the London School of Economics & Politics, and Bachelor of Arts in Geography from the University of Oxford.
